BRIEF BIOGRAPHY

Motivational Trainer and Speaker

- Jeffrey L. Washington is a motivational trainer, speaker and coach from Los Angeles, CA. He is a charismatic facilitator who enjoys providing the ultimate classroom experience. His areas of expertise are Communication, Leadership and Diversity.

Programs:

With more than 20 years of first-hand experience, Jeffrey offers real-world business solutions to help organizations meet their employee development goals. Programs include relevant case studies, applicable exercises and practical techniques. Employees acquire new skills through class discussion, topic reflection and role-play.

Application:

Diligent preparation places special emphasis on the “how-to’s” of the training. Participants are coached to apply the skills learned in the classroom back to the job. His presentations are highly interactive, lively and fun. Jeffrey’s ability to engage a group and elicit their participation s impressive.

Uniqueness:

- What separates Jeffrey from most trainers is his ability to “motivate” participants to action. He does this with his enthusiasm, authenticity and an uncanny ability to connect with his audience. He brilliantly transforms training principles into participant’s workplace reality.

Collaboration:

He adroitly collaborates with his clients to ensure training success. His training expertise is often requested again by clients nationally.
